This request to copy the attached materials is a legally permissible use as allowed under the Copyright Laws in Title 17 of the US Code, specifically sections 107 and 110. While materials may be copied work "for purposes such as criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching (including multiple copies for classroom use), scholarship, or research,” there are specific restrictions on what is permissible. Remember the CCM Mailroom is not a library, and is not afforded the protections for creating archival copies under section 108.

Instructors may not:

- copy sheet music or recorded music for the purpose of creating anthologies or compilations used in class
- copy from works intended to be “consumable” in the course of study or teaching such as workbooks, exercises, standardized tests and answer sheets, and like material
- copy sheet music or recorded music for the purpose of performance, except for emergency copying to replace purchased copies which are not available for an imminent performance (provided purchased replacement copies are substituted in due course); or
- copy any materials without including the copyright notice which appears on the printed copy.

It is important to remember that the CCM Mailroom cannot comply with copying requests that do not conform to the uses described below. While the instructor is the final judge of whether the materials they use fall under “fair use,” for liability reasons, the CCM Mailroom is only allowed to make copies which fall into the following categories:

This copy request:

___ is in compliance with fair use guidelines set forth in University of Cincinnati policies for instruction.

___ is for academic purposes other than performance.

___ is an emergency situation to replace copies purchased for a performance which are not now available.

___ are materials not under copyright and in the public domain.

___ the material is licensed and the license includes rights to reproduce and distribute copies to performers and crew. Please make sure that this is an explicit permission granted in the contract.

The above information is correct and I agree to follow the terms of copyright as stated.
