The Afro-Peruvian Sextet was established in 2005.

The ensemble's insistently inventive program of traditional Afro-Peruvian music transformed by Gabriel Alegría's highly personal synthesis of folkloric Afro-Peruvian rhythms, jazz, and other musical strains has led to a signature accomplishment: developing the band's patented blend of deep scholarship and playfulness into a touring experience that conveys a vast knowledge of the music and, perhaps more importantly, transmits black music from coastal Perú as a way of life to its audiences.
